

Workshop with THOMAS HYLLAND ERIKSEN, ELISABETH EIDE and SHARAM ALGHASI (CULCOM - University of Oslo/Department of Social Anthropology)

Place as a focus for belonging: A preliminary report from an interdisciplinary research project

Monday, 20 September, 10am-3pm

*MPI zur Erforschung multireligiöser und multiethnischer Gesellschaften
Hermann-Föge-Weg 11, Library Hall · Göttingen*

Thomas Hylland Eriksen is professor of social anthropology at the University of Oslo. He has conducted extensive fieldwork in Mauritius and Trinidad around questions of the politics of identity, ethnicity, nationalism and globalization.

Elisabeth Eide is working as an associate professor in media studies at Oslo University College.

Sharam Alghasi has defended his Ph D in sociology and now works as a researcher.

Kontakt

Prof. Dr. Steven Vertovec
Tel.: +49 (551) 4956-126